Please send products without any mechanical damage or conversion. Please pack the product using antistatic bag and include enough buffer or shock-absorbing material (such as foam or newspaper) so that the product will be cushioned in transit. Insufficiently packed products will lose their warranty immediately, and will be returned to you with a small handling charge of 30 Euro/£25.

Prior to claiming the warranty, please also double-check that all components and devices connected to the Portwell product are not the cause of your problem. If we cannot find any fault on the Portwell product, or the fault on the Portwell product has been caused by a separate component or device, then we will return the product with handling charge of 30 Euro/£25. The warranty also cannot be claimed on the following situations: compatibility problems, dead batteries, BIOS failure, driver and firmware updates.
